

scrapped up as much money as he could, and he was on his way to Cincinnati, and had won some $5,000.

Herzog declared he obtained the affidavit from his friends because Benton last spring had declared to John McGraw, manager of the Giants, that he never had been connected with betting on baseball. McGraw, demanding such a promise before agreeing to take him back as a member of the team.

Herzog also produced a letter from President Heydler of the National League in which the latter stated he had been convinced that Herzog did not have any connection with gambling on baseball. This letter was dated June 25, after Heydler, according to Herzog's story, had threatened the matter out with both Benton and Herzog in his office, finally declaring the whole thing should be dropped and kept quiet.

Here Is Herzog's Story.

Herzog's story, as told by himself, follows: "Last May, when the Boston club was in Chicago, Art Wilson stopped me after one of the games and asked me to talk to him. I suggested we have dinner together and after we were at the table in a downtown restaurant, Art said:

"'Buck, there is something I want to talk to you about and I don't know just how to say it.' "I assured him if he needed some money I would be glad to help him, but he waved the idea of money away and told me he had heard rumors among the ball players in the east that Benton had said I offered him $800 last September to throw a game to the Cubs. That was the first I had heard of it. He related some of the details of Benton's story and I immediately asked Wilson if he would go with me the next day to President Veeck of the Cubs and relate the same story.

Calls for Showdown.

"Art agreed and the next day we went to Veeck's office, as Wilson told me, but after a few minutes he and Wilson left. Then Veeck replied he had heard of the affair a couple of weeks before. I told Veeck I thought he should have talked to me about it at once and I asked him to have President Heydler come from New York when the Giants would be in Chicago a few days later, that I would demand a hearing before Heydler in the presence of Benton. Before the Boston club left I got Wilson and Boeckel to make the depositions regarding Benton as I might show them to Heydler.

"Veeck agreed to ask Heydler to come, but after some days delay, he formed me Heydler couldn't, but would take the thing up when we got to New York in June.

Bares Benton's Affidavit.

He had already filed an affidavit with Heydler declaring that he, Hal Chase and myself during the previous September, when the Giants were playing in Chicago, had gone in a taxi to a saloon, and that there in a back room in the presence of Chase and the short, stout proprietor of the saloon, I had offered him $800 to throw the game the next day to the Cubs.

"I found out afterward that Benton couldn't tell where the saloon was, but he said it was Stillman's.

"I demanded from Heydler the right to cross question Benton and asked him if he remembered having tried open my desk in Cincinnati when I was manager of the Reds and he was a member of that team, and obtaining the pay roll of the Cincinnati club, then joking the players in the clubhouse by telling most of them the exact amount of their salaries. He remembered it and admitted the act.

Charges Threat by 'Rebe'.

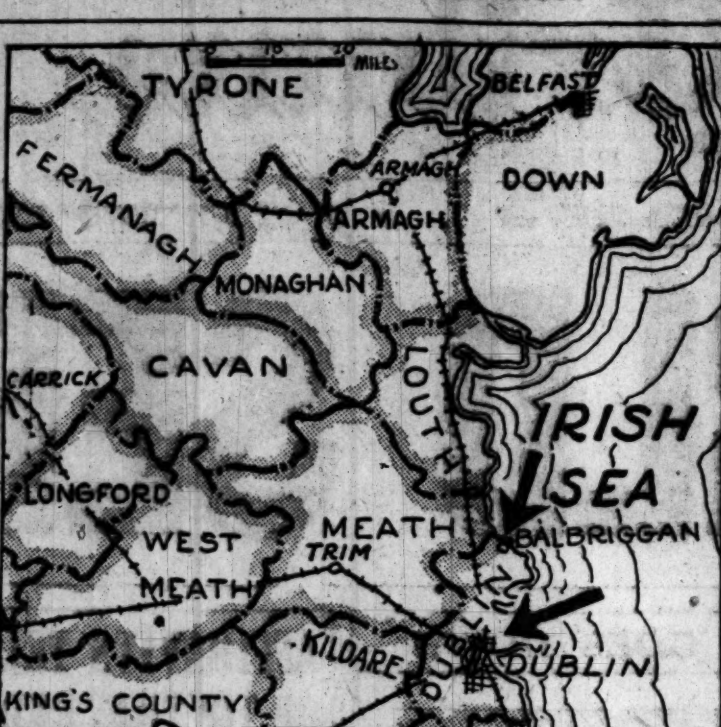

"I asked him if he remembered being in a poker game on the train when with the Cincinnati club, and getting into an argument with Doc Miller, pulling a knife and starting to attack Miller; then, after being considerably damaged in the fight, of having Miller dress his bruises and how, when I fined both him and Miller $50 for their actions, he declared he 'would get me some day for that.' He remembered.

"I asked him if he remembered having said, previous to a game at Cubs park in last September's series between the Cubs and Giants, 'Boys, watch me win today.' He remembered that, and that was the series in which I was supposed to have offered him the $800.

Ready for Finish Fight.

"Well, when Heydler heard all this he turned on Benton, gave him a

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 22.—[Special.]—As the government continued today to strengthen its case against Mrs. Emma Bergdoll and four co-defendants, accused of conspiring to aid the notorious draft dodger Bergdoll brothers, a wild plot by Grover to escape from Governor's island last March, was bared.

THE GRAND JURY HEARING

Before he went before the grand jury yesterday afternoon Ben Johnson admitted he had evidence that there had been crooked ball games last year and that several players had been expelled from the big leagues as a result. He had no direct evidence of any "throw" games this year, he said.

What Mr. Coniskey testified to was not learned. The baseball reporters generally agreed in a disbelief that crookedness in baseball players was in any sense general.

Lower on the Sox to Appear. Samuel W. Pass, a manufacturer in the Peoples Gas building, an ardent Sox fan and a close friend of many of the Sox players, is also to be called. That he had lost a large sum on the Sox during the world's series and had since learned some of the things responsible for the losing of the series was brought out in the hearing.

The reports of the detective agency which was employed by the Cub team after the "scandal" broke with regard to the Aug. 31 game, was turned over to the authorities by Mr. Veeck, president of the club. That he discussed the game before the jury and told how Grover Cleveland Alexander was sent in to pitch when informed that the game was to be fixed, was admitted.

He also was asked concerning the replacing of Merkle by Barber and the playing of Herzog, whose error in the game was costly.

That in all probability no indictments will result from the investigation was admitted by the authorities. If they can purge the game of any taint of scandal they will have accomplished a great deal, they say. Judge McDonald, who ordered the investigation, declared it was solely for the good of the sport.

SCENES IN BALBRIGGAN.

BALBRIGGAN, Ireland, Sept. 22.—[By the Associated Press.]—Nearly 1,000 persons, about half the population of this partly devastated town, crept back to their homes this morning after having spent a second night of terror in the outlying hayfields. Once during the middle of the night an alarm was raised which caused a stampede of the people to remote fields, where they took refuge under hedges and haystacks, or whatever shelter they were able to discover in the dark.

Women and old men shivered in the cold of the night and until dawn, when a reconnoitering party found things quiet in Balbriggan, and all of them gradually returned to their homes.

The correspondent, who arrived at an early hour this morning from Dublin, witnessed the last of the population coming home—women with crying infants in their arms, men carrying blankets and baskets of food, and children endeavoring to rub the sleep from their eyes. Only a handful of the residents of Balbriggan had been courageous enough to pass the night in their homes.

People Are Scattered. Many townspeople had scattered among friends in neighboring villages, but others had gone to farms about Dublin, more than twenty miles distant. Groups of townspeople stood in the streets this morning gazing at the smoking ruins of houses wrecked by bombs or burned after having been soaked with petroleum Monday night.

During his visit the correspondent saw motor trucks, each containing a half dozen "black and tan" recruits from army men to reinforce the Royal Irish constabulary, wearing nondescript uniforms, half khaki and half police blue, whizz through the main thoroughfare, the men with rifles in hand. The local police consisted of twenty Royal Irish constabulary veterans. They are said to have prevented the "black and tan" from burning the principal factory in the town, and also to have saved other property.

One child had a remarkable escape from a stray bullet which carried away an apple from its mouth without injuring its fingers or lips.

The body of Royal Irish Constabulary Inspector Burke, who was killed during the early fighting, was removed today from the police station, but the bodies of Gibbons and Larless still lie in a nearby outhouse today awaiting an inquest.

Burning of Factory. The manager of a British owned hosiery factory, the inside of which was completely ruined, was preparing today to return to England. He said it would be impossible to rebuild the plant. The manager suggested that the burning of this factory marked a new phase in alleged attempts to suppress the Sinn Fein. He said that although many creameries which had been community property had been destroyed in Ireland, he believed the burning of the hosiery factory, irrespective of a deliberate attack on an industrial works, in this factory about 400 employees, including many women, have been thrown out of work. If the other factory had been destroyed virtually the entire working population of Balbriggan would have been rendered idle. The skilled mechanic and other employees of the ruined factory say they will be unable to find jobs elsewhere in their particular line of work in Ireland.

One of the men, a father of eight children, told the correspondent that his only chance for work was in England.

The raiding party, it is said, was dissatisfied from burning the second factory only when informed by the local constables and the town physician that a government official owned it.

The "black and tan" are encamped at Gormanston, three miles distant. Their threats to return to Balbriggan and complete the destruction of the town are keeping the people at a high pitch of expectancy, and a majority of the inhabitants are preparing to spend their third night in the open.

Humidity Means Health

REGARDLESS of temperature, a room cannot be comfortable or healthful in winter without proper humidity. Hot dry air absorbs the moisture from the body and dries out the skin—makes one feel chilly even tho the thermometer registers high.

"TRICO" Humidifying Shields overcome this discomfort by introducing the proper amount of moisture into the rooms at all times. The home will be comfortable at from five to seven degrees lower temperature.

Furthermore, "TRICO" prevents coughs, colds and other kindred ailments. Hot dry air causes irritation of the membranes of the nose and throat which is not possible with properly humidified air.

"TRICO" is an asset to any employer. That usual three o'clock drowsiness will disappear—your employees will be alert and on the job every hour of the day if you have your office equipped with "TRICO."

"TRICO" Humidifying Shields are made of heavy gauge steel with a beautiful baked enamel finish in any color or imitation of wood to match the interior decorations. The brackets are strong and artistic and the invisible water pan is galvanized to prevent rust.

"TRICO" Humidifying Shields are a vital necessity in any room—home, hotel, office or hospital—where artificial heat is used.

PURE BUNK, IS BRAND ON COX FUND CHARGES

'Barroom' Politics, G.O.P. Chief Says.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 22.—(Special.)—Asserting that Gov. Cox, in his charges about millions being raised by the Republicans for campaign purposes, had been "talking pure bunk," William Boyce Thompson, chairman of the ways and means committee of the Republican national committee, declared in the senate campaign fund investigation today that the Democratic presidential candidate was no stranger in Wall street, that he was himself a millionaire and had secured much of his money in stocks dealt in on Wall street, and that others who have been assailing Republican finances were Wall street men.

The charge from the Republican ways and means chairman came during the course of a heated colloquy with Senator P. J. Rogers, after Thompson had accused Gov. Cox of "barroom politics." It served to give the committee an enlightening half hour in a day which also brought further revelations concerning the financial plight of the Democrats.

Other Developments of Day.
Other developments in the hearing included the following:
Disclosure by former Ambassador James W. Gerard, chairman of the Democratic finance committee, that only $125,000 has been collected for the national campaign fund, that he will be happy if lucky enough to raise $1,000,000, and that the sky is the limit in so far as individual contributions are concerned.

An explanation by William Barnes of New York, showing that charges of the Democrats that his book, "Republicanism of 1920," a Republican campaign fund, were ridiculous, all money raised from the publication and distribution of the book going either into the treasury of the Albany Journal or to the promoter who undertook its publication as a purely business venture planned as long ago as 1918.

Admission by the president of the New Jersey Liquor Dealers' association that the liquor dealers of the state were soliciting money to aid in the election of Gov. Cox, but revealing that the tax was a hopeless one, appeals to more than 1,500 sources having brought into the Cox liquor fund coffers only $2,500.

"Pure Bunk," Witness Says.
Col. Thompson of the Republican ways and means committee was summoned by the committee to clear up matters relating to contributions in some of the eastern states. His testimony led Senator Reed into continued references to Gov. Cox's charge that the Republicans sought to raise a campaign fund of $15,000,000.

"That's pure bunk and you know it," said Thompson, interrupting Senator Reed in one of his multiplying calculations regarding Republican funds. "It's barroom politics and you are well aware of it. Don't think that your candidate for the presidency is any stranger to Wall street."

"What do you mean by that?" asked Senator Kenyon, the chairman.
Cox Sought Wall Street.
"I have heard that he got his money down around Wall street," Thompson replied. "Why, the two Democratic candidates, Cox and Roosevelt, are so well off that they could finance their own campaign, or very nearly so, if they wished to."

"I didn't want to get into any argument with you," said Senator Reed, who now appeared thoroughly aroused. "But now that you have sought it, let's go to it. Do you know how Gov. Cox made his money?"

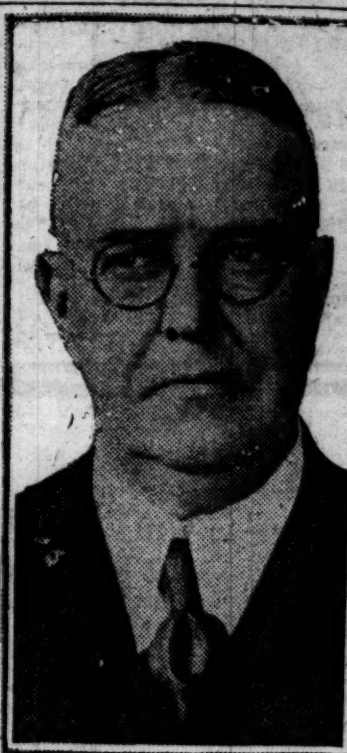

"Partly out of Ohio Cities gas—now the Pure Oil company," Col. Thompson replied.
"Well, when you said that Cox was a stranger to Wall street, did you mean that he speculated in stocks?" Senator Reed continued.

"I meant that he was interested in securities that were dealt in on Wall street," Thompson said.
"Well, do you know that Cox ever speculated in Wall street?"
"No, I do not know that," was the reply.
"Do you know that he ever made a

Kenyon asked.
"No, it was signed with a rubber stamp in my office," Carroll replied.
"You qualify as a member of Congress," Senator Reed said.
"Under the present administration," Senator Kenyon added.
Mr. Carroll explained that the letter had been read to him over the telephone and he approved it.

Sought a Liberal Congress.
When he was reminded that Gov. Cox had recently said the prohibition issue was as dead as slavery, Carroll said:

"I don't remember anything about that paragraph of the letter referring to Gov. Cox. What we were after, and what we talked about in our conferences, was the necessity of getting a liberal congress. I regret that the paragraph about Cox was included for two reasons, first because our members were not consulted, and also because Gov. Cox and the Democratic committee knew nothing about it."

"How much money have you raised?"
"Two thousand five hundred dollars," was the reply. "And I don't have much hope of raising any more. But we have not given up. We are not discouraged."

"How do you spend this money?"
"In propaganda for the liquor interests, but we haven't sent any out yet."

"Has any member of the Democratic party attempted to dissuade you from carrying on this campaign for Gov. Cox as a wet candidate?" Senator Kenyon asked.

"No," Mr. Carroll replied.
Barnes Tells of Book.
William Barnes of New York told the committee that suspicions of the Democrats that the volume "Republicanism of 1920" was being used to swell the Republican campaign fund were unfounded.

The book was conceived in 1918 as a good thing for the party, but mainly as a money making scheme for the Albany Journal. All the money to be derived goes into the coffers of the Albany Journal, and to the promoter engaged by the Journal to get up the book. If the book does the Republican party any good, Mr. Barnes says he will be glad of it.

He was asked to appear again tomorrow to explain some subscription blanks signed by prominent men which were introduced in evidence in Chicago.

POLISH-RUSSIAN PEACE MEET ON; GLOOM PERVADES

Lukewarm Speeches Add to Pessimism.

BY PARKE BROWN.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
[Copyright: 1920: By The Chicago Tribune.]
RIGA, Sept. 21.—Less than twenty minutes were needed for the actual business transacted at the first session of the Riga meeting of the Russian-Polish peace delegations and the entire session, including the half-hour recess devoted to examination of credentials, lasted only fifty minutes.

Adjournment was taken by agreement without setting the date for the next session, which will be taken up by the delegates tomorrow.

Small Chance for Peace.
These facts and the somewhat heartened utterances of the two chairmen concerning their desire for peace tended to increase the general feeling of pessimism and there seems little likelihood that a final treaty will be signed here.

M. Dombek, head of the Polish delegation, was less combative than he was at Minsk, but, obviously, there was big fence running down the center of the long table across which the thirty-four members of the two delegations faced each other, and neither side showed any willingness to begin tearing it down.

Reds in Formal Attire.
Formality, almost Versailles-like, ruled from the moment the two Moscow automobiles, still flying Red flags, began carrying the bolshevik delegates to the old conference building, and the Poles struggled in either soft or in rickety one horse droshkies.

INSISTS ON DISARMAMENT
BY BENJAMIN GINZBURG.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
RIGA, Sept. 22.—Disarmament of Poland and Russia forms the sole guarantee of stable peace, declared Adolph Joffe, president of the Russian peace delegation, in his address today.

"Disarmament under the present conditions is indispensable and is vital to Russia to protect herself against new aggression."

Regarding the proposals for a plebiscite of the border states, M. Joffe said: "The working people of the Ukraine and White Russia, through their soviets, already have voiced their self-determination, as has Russia, without the necessity either of a constituent assembly or a plebiscite. These governments were not imposed upon the people by Russia. East Galicia, as a part of the Ukraine, naturally is bound to decide to unite with the soviet of Ukraine."

Regarding the spreading of soviet propaganda in Asia, the time is ripe for independence, and there is no reason Great Britain's partial recognition of Egypt's independence should not be extended to India.

BRITISH CONTROL OF EASTERN OIL ANTEDATES WAR

Expert Tells of Deals in Mesopotamia.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., Sept. 22.—(Special.)—The United States need not expect to obtain from Mesopotamia any part of the oil supply which it may need in the future, according to a statement just made by Sir John Cadman, oil controller of England.

He was speaking of the effect of the British treaty with Turkey on the world struggle for oil. Sir John declared there will be no nationalization of the Mesopotamian fields, but suggested they will be worked by private British concerns that obtained concessions before the war. The state department recently inquired of London whether Americans would be excluded from oil exploitation, particularly in Mesopotamia.

For General Market.
"Oil, when it is secured," says Sir John, "will be brought down to the Mediterranean and placed on the general oil markets of the world. It will be sent to Great Britain, France, Italy, and other European countries. It has omitted the United States as, obviously, with its own huge supplies, it will not need it."

Sir John emphasized that as long as "we were buying cheaply from the United States and as long as they had a big surplus of oil, it was not in this country to create new supplies."

U. S. Should Get Share.
Now that the United States foresees the exhaustion of its own resources and is required to assure its future supply in foreign territory, Sir John does not suggest that the United States is entitled to its share in foreign fields, although the United States furnished England with the largest part of its supplies when it was able to do so.

"France is to have its share in the development," Sir John said. "According to our agreement, France is to participate in a company when it is formed, and for this participation France has agreed to a settlement of boundaries which will tend to unite Arab interests. France also has agreed to use its mandate in Syria to enable oil from Mesopotamia to be transported to the Mediterranean."

NATIONAL CAMPAIGN —IN BRIEF—

WASHINGTON, D. C.—William B. Thompson, chairman of ways and means committee of Republican national committee, at senate fund inquiry, brands Gov. Cox charges of a $15,000,000 G. O. P. campaign fund as "pure bunk" and "barroom politics."

crooked dollar?"
"No."
"Well, then, don't you think you ought to withdraw your statement that Cox was no stranger to Wall street?"

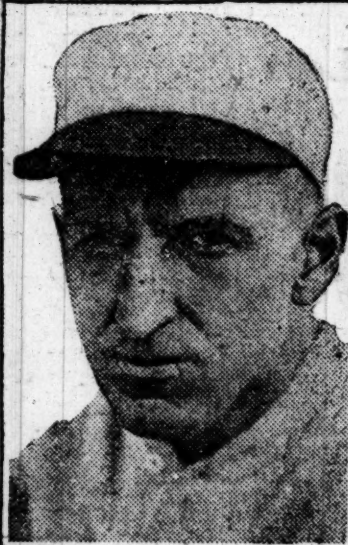

"No," Thompson replied. "Cox is a very wealthy man. He has many millions, lives in a house that cost half a million. That does not imply that there is anything sinister about it."

"Well, did you mean that he was a habitué of Wall street, that he was a bull or a bear?"
"O, no," Thompson said.

Stops Reed for a Minute.

"As a matter of fact, I know your candidate, Senator Harding, to be a very fine, patriotic, upstanding American citizen, and I think Gov. Cox is, too. When you come here and say that Cox is no stranger to Wall street the impression is carried to the people of the country that he is associated with what are known as the big interests. I don't believe that is true."

"Well, your candidate, who has so much money himself, has been telling the people and telling them what is not true, that the Republicans are raising a $30,000,000 fund, when all we are attempting to raise is $15,000,000. Other men who are attacking our plans are Wall street men. The Democrats have the Wall street committee this year. We have not."

Strews Wall Street Connections.
In connection with this statement Thompson listed the members of the Democratic finance committee named earlier in the day by a Democratic witness, ex-Ambassador Gerard, and showed their Wall street connections.

"Why, even the Democratic candidate for vice president has an office in Wall street," he said.

Asked for the Republican quotas in some of the eastern states, Mr. Thompson gave them as follows:

Massachusetts, $175,000; Pennsylvania, $375,000; Connecticut, $75,000; Rhode Island, $75,000; Delaware, $30,000; Maryland, he said had no fixed quota that he knew of.

Tells of Liquor Fund.
George T. Carroll of Elizabeth, N. J., president of the National Retail Liquor Dealers' association and president of the Federated Liquor Industries of New Jersey, was an interesting witness. His attention was called to a circular letter signed by him, produced at the Chicago hearing, appealing for funds to help elect Cox as a wet candidate and proclaiming Cox's nomination at San Francisco as a great wet victory.

"Did you sign that letter?" Senator

FORD ALL ALONE

Will the radical cut in prices of Ford automobiles, announced yesterday morning, affect prices of other motor cars? A general impression is that it will do so received no confirmation on motor row here, or in Detroit, or in Indianapolis.

Makers of cars that are measurably in competition with the Ford would admit no decision to meet the cut from what Henry Ford calls war time prices, and the higher priced vehicle makers were in the same state of mind.

Dodge Issue in Detroit.

A dispatch from Detroit last night said:

"A decided stillness today settled over the automobile manufacturers, and any attempts to draw from them an expression as to what effect the Ford price reduction policy would have was met with evasive answers. None cared to commit himself until he had some idea what other manufacturers thought of it.

"There is no concealing the fact, however, that Mr. Ford's announcement gave not only the builders of motor cars, but merchants as well, food for thought.

"Rumors were heard that other automobile concerns were about to follow the example set by Mr. Ford, but not to such generous proportions. Whether these are well founded will be known within a few days."

No Cut Yet in Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 22.—[Special.]—Automobile manufacturers here were practically unanimous in their belief that the Ford price cut would not be reflected in higher priced cars. It was pointed out that little reduction in raw materials has been made, that freight rates are higher, and that no cut in wages paid to labor has been made. With these factors on the same level, the opinion was general that prices would remain where they are for some time to come.

Can It Be Profiteering?

Boston, Mass., Sept. 22.—[Special.]—After supplying Norman D. Mackey of Dorchester with a wooden leg for the regular leg lost near Verdun, the war risk insurance bureau has cut his monthly allowance of $80 to $63. At the Parker hospital, where he has lots of time to think, he has computed that he will pay for life $17 a month rental to the government for the wooden leg.

SOCIALISTS MAY CALL ON COURTS IN OUSTER CASE

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 22.—[Special.]—In the opinion of some lawyers at the capitol, the assembly may have to fight all over again the battle which raged all day yesterday over the right of the Socialists to occupy their seats.

This uncertainty is directly due to the fact that the five Socialists were permitted to take their oath of office before Secretary of State Hugo before they were in possession of certificates of election to legally establish their status as assemblymen elect.

It now appears the spectacular "resignation" of Samuel Orr and Samuel A. De Witt was not final at all. The law provides such resignations must be filed in writing with the secretary of state. Neither has complied with this requirement as yet.

New York, Sept. 22.—Charles E. Hughes, head of the bar association committee which opposed the ouster of the Socialist delegation last winter, said:

Unidentified Woman Takes Poison in Street

An unidentified woman attempted to commit suicide last night in front of the home of Lambert Johnson at 7107 Langley avenue. She swallowed a number of mercury tablets, and fell over in a faint. Mr. Johnson and his wife carried the woman into their home and called the police, who took her to the Washington Park hospital, where it is said she will recover. The woman is described as being about 24 years old, five feet five inches tall, with a fair complexion, brown hair and eyes. She was wearing a black waist, a blue plaid skirt, black shoes and stockings, a string of black beads, and a wedding ring.

A Good "Understanding"

Every woman should know the secret of good hosiery—the difference between Burson and the other kinds.

She should not confuse "Burson" Fashioning with "pressed-in" shape of the knitted tube called a seamless stocking.

She should not confuse Burson with the seamed-up hose either.

"Burson" Fashioning means that these stockings are knit by a special process to the shape of foot, ankle and leg.

They give the comfort and beauty of a perfectly formed, smoothly rounded limb; unbroken by a seam.

CLAIM OGLESBY WINS ON VOTE IN COUNTRY TOWNS

Fraud Evidence Found in 12th Ward Precinct.

Claims made yesterday by John G. Oglesby, anti-Thompson candidate for governor, in the official canvass of the primary vote in the country towns of Cook county cut materially into the apparent plurality for Len Small, his Thompson rival. With all but twenty country precincts counted, Oglesby managers insisted their candidate had a sufficient plurality in the country towns to assure his victory. They called for a plurality for him there of from 10,000 to 10,500. Previous estimates had fixed it at around 4,000. Most of the Oglesby gains were in Oak Park, where some precincts went for him by pluralities of more than 100. His women's vote was especially heavy in Oak Park precincts.

Recorder Joseph F. Haas estimated last night that he had tried the country towns by 12,000 instead of 10,000, with which he was credited. He said the figures also showed that Oglesby's plurality would not be less than 10,000. "He has picked up enough votes there to win," he commented.

Irregularities that cast suspicion on the returns in nearly 100 of the 927 Chicago precincts officially canvassed were discovered during the day.

In more than fifty precincts irregularities were apparent that this morning Col. John V. Clinch, representing the anti-Thompson forces, will ask the election commissioners to institute inquiries and call in judges and clerks to explain discrepancies.

In one precinct, the Forty-seventh of the Twelfth ward, the seals of the envelopes containing tally sheets and poll books were found to have been broken. Tally sheet entries were in three different handwritings. The total vote given Republican candidates for governor and United States senator was greater than the Republican vote in the precinct. The vote in the precinct, as shown by the tally sheets, was: For United States senator, Smith 149, McKinley 38, Small 141, Oglesby 1.

In some precincts in the Eighth ward no women's votes were recorded for Oglesby. In other precincts where official returns are questioned more votes are recorded for the various candidates than are shown by the poll books to have been cast.

The canvass proceeded more rapidly than previously. In nine wards—the First, Second, Fourth, Fifth, Eighth, Ninth, Completed Tenth, Eleventh, and in 9 Wards, Twelfth—the official count on state and county offices is completed, but the results have not been added.

Reliable, although not official, figures on the count in six of the nine wards follow:

First Ward.
United States senator—Smith, 8,195; McKinley, 717; Small's plurality, 2,484.
Governor—Small, 3,368; Oglesby, 613; Small's plurality, 2,755.

Fourth Ward.
United States senator—Smith, 2,180; McKinley, 194; Small's plurality, 2,295.

Completed Tenth Ward.
Governor—Small, 2,480; Oglesby, 149; Small's plurality, 2,331.

Eleventh Ward.
United States senator—Smith, 3,677; McKinley, 504; Small's plurality, 3,373.

Twelfth Ward.
United States senator—Smith, 2,763; McKinley, 690; Small's plurality, 2,073.

Small's plurality, 2,147.
Smith suffered a net loss of 961 votes in the First, but gained 182 in the Fourth, 221 in the Eighth, and fifty-two in the Twelfth. Small gained 299 in the First, 175 in the Fourth, 217 in the Eighth, and twenty-two in the Twelfth.

Poison in Shoe Polish
May Be Fatal to Student

Milledgeville, Ga., Sept. 22.—[Special.]—Cadet E. B. Smith of the Georgia Military academy had a pair of tan shoes polished at a local shop. Soon after physicians said he was suffering from nitrobenzol poisoning and might not recover. A bootblack had used a new style of tan polish. Doctors say nitrobenzol penetrates the skin and soon destroys all the red blood corpuscles. At a Florida army camp some time ago twenty soldiers were fatally poisoned by the same chemical.

"We Must Save Coal"

(TRIBUNE Photo.)

Miss Gladys Mois with a few "Save Light, Save Gas, Save Coal" tags.

The Chicago Association of Commerce has started something. It plans to give away 150,000 tags next Saturday instead of trying to sell them. The idea is to educate Chicago to the necessity of saving coal.

The tags will be in the form of a coal scuttle and will read as follows: "A serious coal shortage threatens Chicago. Householders may be cold and industries shut down unless we all practice economy. If every electric light consumer burns one light one hour less each day more than 10,000 tons or more than 300 cars of coal will be saved. Four lights saved fifteen minutes a day will help just as much.

"If every gas consumer saves the equivalent of one gas light one hour each day 51,000 tons or more than 1,000 cars of coal will be saved. We can save 2,000,000 tons this winter, which will keep the factories busy and the homes warm. Save money, cut the cost of coal, and free cars to haul other goods."

Equality Won, League Will Cheer and Disband.

One Chicago Political Equality league will close to exist on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 2.

The obsequies will be held in the Florentine room of the Congress hotel, with Louis Mannons' orchestra and Sebastian Burnett supplying the funeral music.

Mrs. Harriette Taylor Treadwell, president of the league, will preside, and Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout, head of the State Suffrage association, has been invited. A large attendance is expected. It is believed members of the league and members of the association eventually will join in a greater organization for civic education and betterment to be known as the League of Women Voters. It will be non-partisan.

Will Teach Use of Ballot.
There is no longer any need for the political equality and suffrage organizations. Their purposes have been achieved. The women have the vote. What they need now is education along political lines. Such at least is the talk of the leaders.

Former Gov. Frank B. Willis of Ohio, former Secretary of the Treasury William McAdoo, Miss Betsy Edwards of Indiana, and Wilbur Trout, others will speak (Photo Chambers.) at the Oct. 2 meeting.

The platforms of the two parties will be discussed by Republican and Democratic representatives. Miss Edwards will tell how the eastern women accepted their new responsibility. She recently returned from work in Maine as an organizer of Republican women.

Says Women Fear to Vote.
"It may seem strange," Miss Edwards said, "but almost every woman I approached in the east told me she did not feel qualified to vote. Well, we must make them qualified."

"That's the work destined for the new organization evolving from the Political Equality league and the suffrage organization. It will maintain schools of citizenship if I have anything to say about it."

CHINA SETS UP 5 BENEFITS OF CONGRESS VISIT

Shantung and Embassy
Plans Put First.

BY J. B. POWELL.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright: 1920: By The Chicago Tribune.)

PEKING, Sept. 22.—After devoting every effort toward the entertainment of an American congressional party of fifty-five members on an eighteen day joy ride through China at an expense of $100,000, the Chinese are now checking up their accounts and trying to arrive at a balance. Mr. Lin Goh Wang, formerly connected with the Chinese legation at Washington, D. C., and now a secretary in the foreign office at Peking, has listed the following distinct accomplishments on the credit side of the ledger:

1. A statement made by Congressmen Porter of Pennsylvania and unanimously concurred in by the other members of the party at an official banquet given by the civil and military officials of Shantung province, to the effect that America would never sign the peace treaty and the league of nations covenant if the Shantung reservation is not included.

Embassy at Peking.

2. Another statement by Mr. Porter, chairman of the foreign affairs committee of the house, that steps will immediately be taken by the new congress to raise the standing of the American legation at Peking to an embassy, similar to our diplomatic representation at Tokio, London, Paris, Mexico, and other countries.

3. A pledge by Congressman Dyer of Missouri of the house judiciary committee that the new congress will once take up and pass legislation beneficial to American business development in China in the form of a national incorporation law for foreign trading companies doing business in China under American extraterritorial treaties.

Better Housing for Consuls.

4. A definite pledge, unanimously concurred in by the entire group of congressmen to the American officials of China, that steps will immediately be taken by the new congress to provide suitable housing for the American legation and consular officials in China.

5. China places distinctly on the credit side the fact that the American congressmen visited China first before going through Japan and listening to Japanese propaganda.

D. C. Wills, Republican,

Put on Reserve Board

Washington, D. C., Sept. 22.—(Special.)—President Wilson today appointed D. C. Wills of Cleveland, O., as a member of the federal reserve board. He succeeds Henry A. Moellendy of Wisconsin, who retired from the board on Aug. 10. Mr. Wills is a Republican.

17,000 HEROES OF CIVIL WAR IN G. A. R. LINE

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 22.—(Special.)—Stepping briskly and with firm tread, approximately 17,000 veterans of the civil war marched again today behind the flag they fought to protect, and kept step to the same tunes that stirred them on to greater efforts in the days of '61-'65. It was the climax of the fifty-fourth annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic and the one mile of march wound its way through 100,000 cheering spectators. The temperature of 85 degrees was too hot for scores of the veterans, who were cared for at first aid stations along the line of march, many of whom insisted on continuing on past the reviewing platform in front of the state house before they would accept assistance.

"Heads up, chests out, eyes right!"

cried the leaders in blue as they passed the reviewing stand, and the command was obeyed to a man.

The Illinois veterans in the parade made an impressive showing and were cheered as they wheeled into the circle at Monument place, with heads erect and keeping time with the drum and fife corps which led their division.

The U. S. Grant post 28 of Chicago headed the division through the crowded lane of humanity with a band of twenty pieces, all played by veterans who were using the original instruments they carried on the battlefields during the civil war. It was one of the most unique features of a wonderful procession.

The 96th and 115th Illinois volunteers, with Whiteaker's Iron Brigade of Chickamauga; the 43d, 51st, and 100th Illinois volunteers, second division of the 2d brigade, 4th corps, and the 98th and 123d Illinois volunteers with Wilder's brigade all received their share of the applause.

MOST women have wanted something like this; stylish coats that had the all-wool fabrics and fine tailoring that they saw in our men's coats. We're making such coats now; for street wear, motoring, outdoor sports, shopping; coats that cost much less than other coats for women; coats that give longer service too.

There are a variety of styles; many fur trimmed; some with fur linings; short coats and longer ones; guaranteed to satisfy—money back if they don't.

If you own a truck or passenger car, --this means saving money:--

Truck Profits depend on operating economies

THE PROFITS EARNED by your truck are the sole basis of judging its performance value.

They depend on operating economy—economy in fuel, oil, care, service, strain, and repairs. A truck unable to economize in these respects steals profits out of your pocket. Upon ignition largely depend many truck economies.

Magneto ignition means many economies.

Fuel economy—because its fat, sure spark explodes every bit of the gas in the combustion chamber into all possible power.

Lubricating economy—because it adjusts itself to all engine speeds and so reduces motor strains.

Cylinder economy—because it means less carbon and reduces the danger of fouling.

All of these mean less repairs, fewer overhauls, less time away from work—beside the time saved on the road.

Ignition by magneto adds power when power is needed most. It may often avert stalling in holes and on hills, costly delays, late deliveries, damage to the load.

Never a slave to the service station. The magneto requires no renewal, labor or tinkering. It is self-contained, independent of starting and lighting systems and it lasts as long as your engine.

Pay for a magneto—the predominant truck ignition—at the start. Then forget it. It costs the truck maker more to put it on. But it economizes for you in a multitude of different ways.

DEMOCRATS HAVE BETRAYED CREED OF U. S.—HUGHES

Laments Demagogic Talk of Governor Cox.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 22.—The Democratic national administration at the peak of its responsibility and opportunity forfeited the confidence of the country and by "inexcusable blunders," seriously impaired the nation's prestige and influence, Charles E. Hughes declared here tonight in an address formally notifying Judge Nathan L. Miller that he had received the Republican nomination for governor of New York state.

Instead of seeking a swift peace conformable to the plain demands of American interests, the administration pursued not the vision of a sound statesmanship, but a policy of delusion, bringing together good and bad in an unwholesome union which the administration was determined should be indissoluble," Mr. Hughes said.

Surrender U. S. Principles.
"The distinctive policy of the Democratic administration thus became one of surrender of American principles and interests, and upon that policy it has demanded, and unquestionably will receive, the verdict of the American people."

"There now is but one plain course to rectify the mischief and assure the future, and that is to put in a Republican administration which will be able to arrange for a salutary international cooperation and the full discharge of American duty to mankind without fatuously committing ourselves to a broad undertaking, pledging the use of national arms in unknown contingencies regardless of the opinion at the time of the merits of the controversy."

No Time for Demagoguery.
"It is too serious a time to admit of attempts to win political favor by capitalizing passion, bitterness of feeling, and misjudgment," the speaker continued.

"We have deplored, upon grounds broader than those which relate to any partisan interest, regrettable utterances of the kind by the Democratic party which have this tendency. Consider this statement: 'I charge it now, I will charge it until the Ides of November are here, that they are raising the campaign fund for the purpose of purchasing the presidency of the United States if they can.'"

"Again consider the statement: 'I know many men are making contributions for the purpose of using the bayonet to settle industrial controversies.' Such statements do not invite rejoinder, but it is evident the unhappy disposition to make them should not have the opportunity of the presidency of the United States."

MOTHER FEARS GIRL OF 15 AND YOUTH, 19, HAVE ELOPED

An anxious mother has asked the assistance of the police in the search for her 15 year old daughter, Edith Whitson, of 2154 West Adams street.

She believes the girl eloped Tuesday to Crown Point or Waukegan with a young man who has been paying attention to her for nearly a year. Edith called her up Tuesday afternoon to say she would be detained at the office. She is employed by the Kellogg Switchboard company. Mrs. Whitson went out later to do some shopping. While she was gone her daughter entered the house, took some of her clothes, then ran out to meet a young man, and disappeared.

EDITH WHITSON.

"The young man I suspect," said the mother, "is Harry Sampson, a carpenter, who lives at 1807 Warren avenue. He's only 19 years old."

CHICAGO IS OFF HARDING LIST FOR BIG TALKS

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Marion, O., Sept. 22.—[Special.]—Senator Harding's October plans, which call for a great deal of traveling and speeches in a dozen cities, do not include Chicago, according to the schedule approved today by the senator.

It is explained at headquarters that the Illinois electoral vote is safe and that the candidate is going only into those states that are considered fighting territory. On Sunday Senator Harding starts for Baltimore.

Trips Thus Far Planned.

After returning to Marion from this trip to Maryland, Kentucky, and West Virginia, the candidate will remain here until Oct. 4. He will then undertake a mid-western trip. The only cities so far on the schedule are Omaha, Oct. 7; Kansas City, Oct. 8, and Oklahoma City, Oct. 9.

It is probable there will be a stop at Des Moines on the way to Omaha, with an address intended to help the cause of Senator Cummins, Harding's friend who is in poor health.

The second trip in October will take the candidate into the border states where the Republicans expect to make inroads. He will remain here two days after the western trip and leave Marion on Oct. 12 for Chattanooga. There the nominee will speak on the evening of the 13th. The following evening he will speak in Louisville, and on the evening of Sept. 16 he will be in Indianapolis. St. Louis will be reached for a night meeting.

To Visit East Coast.

After resting about three days in Marion the senator will go east for the last trip. He is due to speak in Carnegie hall, New York, on Oct. 23, although this is not officially announced.

LOSES 2 YEARS' FIGHT FOR WIFE'S LOVE; KILLS HER

For two years he had fought to hold the love of his wife, and he had lost. So yesterday, when he had kissed her for the last time he shot her dead—to save her from the other man.

MRS. MARY NADZEJEWSKI. Her name was Mary, and he had married her seventeen years ago. They had two children, and they had been happy until 1918, when a slim young man with big eyes, named Andrew Pollack, appeared.

The husband told how he learned that Pollack entered his home every morning, just a few minutes after the husband had left. He told how his wife had disappeared with the children and of how he spent Christmas searching for them, and of how he found them living in a boarding house in Davenport, Ia., with Pollack.

He took her back and made another home for her, but Pollack appeared again, and one day the wife confessed that she loved Pollack and had been thinking of divorce. She left him, took the children, and went to the home of her brother, John Junkie, 3111 Normal avenue.

He told of getting down on his knees and begging Mary to come back to him. He told of Mary's refusal, of her sister-in-law's sneers and threats to kill him, of his being ordered out of the house, and of his finding in the alley a rusty old revolver.

"Then," he said, in the concluding page of his confession, "I went through the alley and asked my wife to come home. She said 'No.' Then I got her around the neck and I kissed her and I said: 'I will kill you if you don't come with me.' She said: 'I don't care; I am through with you. I don't want you any more.'"

"When I shot her first she fell against the stove. Then I shot her again and she fell on the floor. Then I kissed her and ran out the back way."

50 WARD PLAN GOES ON BALLOT IN NOVEMBER

Voters at the November election will decide whether the fifty ward law, with one instead of two aldermen from each ward, is to be adopted in Chicago.

A petition asking that the question be put on the ballot was filed with the election commissioners yesterday by Joseph Cummins, chairman of the citizens' committee, which gathered 50,096 signatures—more than 15,000 more than needed.

Many aldermen are against the proposal, but admit privately that in view of the city council's failure to work out a fair ward redistributing scheme, its chances of being approved by the voters are much better than last spring, when it was beaten by about 5,500 votes.

As the law would put twenty of the present seventy aldermen out of a job, the plan has few supporters in the city council. It provides, however, that aldermanic salaries may be raised to $5,500.

"Signatures were easy to get," Mr. Cummins said. "One volunteer who got 700 signatures told me he had no trouble in getting twenty-five signatures an hour."

THE appreciation voiced by those who have made an early purchase of our Fall Clothing is indeed gratifying.

Ogilvie & Heneage Topcoats, Suits and Overcoats for this Fall and Winter are pleasing results of our usual careful selection of both domestic and European products.

An early selection means a wider range of choice, as fine merchandise will become scarce as the season wanes.

Can you sleep in a strange bed

YOU know the relief at getting back home after trying to sleep in someone's guest-room bed.

Your own bed "fits" you, while the strange one does not!

Neither of them built for sleep. You may grow used to the whims and cranks of your own bed—but you can never perfectly relax until you find a bed built for sleep.

A wooden bed has no place in the modern sanitary household. The longer it has been in the family, the worse for the person who sleeps in it.

And in the interests of sleep, the ordinary iron bed is no better. Its creak and rattle a strain on the nerves. Its crude design an offence to the eye.

A woman will welcome Simmons Metal Beds. Not only sanitary, but noiseless—built for sleep.

She will welcome the Twin Beds. A separate bed for each sleeper—in her own room, the guest room and the children's room.

She will welcome the exquisite Simmons designs—so authentic and in harmony with her ideals of dainty furnishing.

No, she said, the doctor was home. He was over in north. Only speaking, and had been morning, though, because he taken clothes enough with him. Just upon his return he might be interviewed, she replied, with a kindly grin. "I know him to be too tired to thing for anybody."

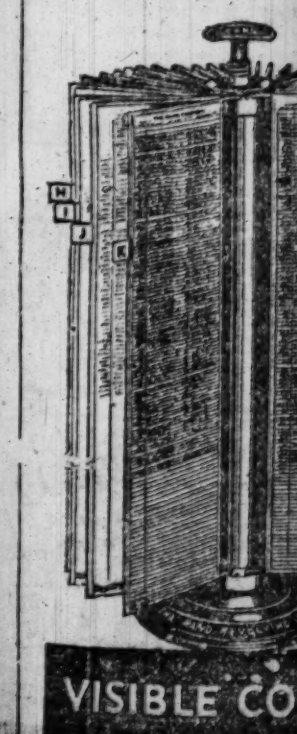

This sounded promising, so I waited to wait, and next day for last—probably of the Presidential candidates worth for. When I tapped at the half-open door of the Rev. Aaron Watkins' home at 28 Plum street, Grandtown, O., Mrs. Watkins responded in person. A large, capable, thoroughly looking woman, Mrs. Watkins and of forthright words.

No, she said, the doctor was not at home. He was over in northeastern Ohio speaking, and had been for two days. Was pretty sure to be back in the morning, though, because he hadn't taken clothes enough with him to keep him going long. To the suggestion that upon his return he might be too tired to immediately subject himself to an interview, she replied, with a certain kindly grimace, "I never knew him to be too tired to do anything for anybody."

This sounded promising, so I decided to wait, and next day found the doctor—probably of the Prohibition presidential candidates worth waiting for. To his talk I listened for two or three hours respectfully and with interest, and came away with an impression, which will not be fleeting, of a kindly, courteous, sensible gentleman with a pleasant, unassuming gift for imparting his ideas.

No sign of the Fanatic.

No fanatic strain in him as far as I could see, but an abiding distaste for rum as being a wrecker of men, homes, and, upon occasions known to him, of automobiles and the occupants

DRY PLEDGES BY CANDIDATES WILL END THIRD PARTY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 22.—Senator Harding and Gov. Cox were promised today by Aaron S. Watkins, Prohibition candidate, that he would withdraw if either pledged his support to the dry program.

Mr. Watkins was speaking to the international congress against alcoholism. He said later that he would embody his proposal in telegrams to Candidates Harding and Cox.

"I ask only two things of the other candidates," Mr. Watkins said. "When ever either pledges himself to enforce the eighteenth amendment and enforce the Volstead act, and to use all of his power and influence to retain them as a part of the nation's law, I will agree to ask our national committee to release me from the ticket."

Thereof. He is not going through the present campaign merely for the sake of making motions or of thrashing straw already winnowed.

He put it this way:

"Bastard isn't bound yet. He's still running loose. That's why the Prohibition party still is in the field. Law per se, doesn't settle anything. We want to be sure one or the other, or both, of the parties is safe and sound on the question of nation-wide prohibition before we quit. That is not a futile thing to do because, although many politicians do not realize it, the Prohibition party has at one time or another held the balance of power in California, Florida, Indiana, Minnesota, New York, and I think he added Mississippi.

A question as to what he thought of the bootlegging iniquities brought this response:

"Our purpose is to bring to bear a pressure that will make underhand selling disgraceful and disreputable—pressure that will force the government to go more seriously about the suppression of this doubly damned traffic."

"Are you satisfied, doctor, with the response your speeches evoke?"

"Well, here's an illustration. The other day at the state fair grounds at Dayton the audience stayed to hear me after Gov. Cox and the others had worn down the edge of the interest. The people gave me a good, hearty hearing."

His Views on Tobacco.

"Is there anything in this talk that the Prohibition party plans to continue to function as an anti-tobacco party?"

"That's camouflage," he said, with a mild sort of impatience. "Just simply a stalking horse. Take this ground—that though tobacco may make a man a nuisance it will not make him a criminal. A man—an adult, I mean, for a boy has not—may have a right to injure himself, but certainly not to injure others. If a man could keep the effects of the sale or the drinking of liquor to himself that would put the whole question on another basis, but no man drinks for a long time without injuring others. We don't prohibit because drinking is wrong, but because it makes a man a menace, and only in so far as drink is a menace to society does it become a subject for law."

"What would be your first act if you were elected president of the United States?"

"I would begin to look over the list of men who have been appointed for law enforcement, and I would then weed out those who are there by reason of political influence. I would leave none but some dry men on guard. And then I'd begin to formulate a message either on the league of nations or on the enforcement of prohibition, or on both subjects."

His Stand on League.

"On the league question I take the moderate ground that we have reached the time when we must expand our patriotism. Once patriotism was just a family affair. Then it became tribal; then provincial, and then, with us, continental. Now it must be enlarged to cover both hemispheres instead of one."

"But a working league of nations will be formulated in time of peace and not of war. If a man is dangerously sick the physician does not sit down and figure how to avoid a recurrence of the illness, but gets busy to cure the illness that caused him to be called in. What I mean is that the league and the treaty ought not to have been linked up. The president should have said, 'Now, let's sign this treaty and then think out a league.'"

On woman's suffrage the doctor said: "Suffrage for women has been in our platform since 1872 in some form or other. So we think we have a better right to appeal to the women than any other party has. We have been longest their friends. If the women had gone before either of the big conventions with the same fire in their eyes for prohibition enforcement as they showed for suffrage they would have forced the declaration for prohibition. The hell? For what? If not for the home, then for what? What is more vital to the women?"

Son of a Quakeress.

The doctor is 57 years old; big framed, big featured, hale, and ruddy. He is of the old Virginia stock and his first American ancestor was a member of the Jamestown colony. His mother was a Quakeress and he was one of ten children, seven of whom are living. He cast his first vote for Harrison in '58 and voted again for him in '92. Since then he has been a Prohibitionist. What brought him over to prohibition was the old parties' stock phrase, "We favor all wisely directed efforts in favor of temperance."

"I tried," he said, "to be contented with that and when they left even that out I went over." He earnestly believes he has wasted neither his vote nor his energies, and he is confident of further victories for "the cause," saying, "Two or three of the foreign nations will go dry by 1925 or sooner—say 1925—because they will feel the economic pressure. Then drinking England will find out that she can't compete with dry America. France and Germany naturally will be slower, because they are wedded to their idea of light wine and beer as temperance drinks—which they are not."

(The End.)

How much does your "clean" mouth cost?

Figure your tooth brushing in terms of scratched enamel and sore gums.

Don't heavily medicated dentifrices cost too much in the long run?

Strong chemicals may make the mouth feel clean, but can you afford it?

Ask your dentist—he will probably tell you to "play safe" with a safe dentifrice.

Why is Colgate's Ribbon Dental Cream recommended by more dentists than any other? Because it contains neither harsh grit nor harmful drugs.

Blouses for Women and Misses

In a Special Selling—Most Unusual Values

These are blouses of such exceptional fashion interest that their extremely moderate pricing becomes a secondary consideration. The styles are those preeminently in favor now.

For women, there are the much favored lace blouses, tinted to harmonize with fall suits, sometimes fashioned over metal ribbon underbodies. Iridescent beads and vivid embroideries on blouses of Georgette crepe and crepe de Chine sound the season's colorful note. A woman's blouse is sketched at the left.

The misses' blouses are of Georgette crepe in suit colors and pastel shades. They are marked with delightful individualities in the way of hand-done fagotting, fluttering ribbons, hand-embroidery and soft frills. The blouse at the right is for misses.

Chicago Girl Won by Kalamazoo (Mich.) Man.

Mr. Johnson brought assurance that Mary Garden, Gall-Curci, Muratore, Ruffo, and Bondi will again thrill patrons at the Auditorium.

"Rosa Raisa also is on her way to America," Mr. Johnson said. "She is due on New York Sept. 30. Ruffo and Bondi arrive a week later. Miss Garden's recent accident has not daunted her, and she will be as wonderful as ever."

"The advance sale in New York is as heavy now as it was last year on the day we opened," Mr. Johnson said. "A different class of people are buying tickets, too. They are the same persons whom one sees at the ball games, at the musical comedy, and at the movies."

"The public is surfeited with musical comedies that are neither music nor comedy. The talking machine records have helped us. They arouse the curiosity of the people, who have heard sing on the plates."

The director has an entirely new roster of artists for the minor roles. Among these newcomers will be: Marcella Gaudari, Olga Caversa, Elsa Diemer, and Gauna Walska, sopranos; Gabriella Besanzoni, Phoebe Falco, Dorothy Frances, Carmen Pasovici, and Rose Luitger Gannon, contraltos; Albert Paillard and Joseph Hyslop, tenors; Salustro Cival, baritone, and Carl Bender, basso.

"Don't Raise Your Boy to Be V. P.": Marshall

More than 1,100 thirty-third degree members, with their wives and families, last night attended a banquet given by the Supreme council, Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite, by Chicago Masons. Oriental consistory had charge of the affair, which was held in the Hotel La Salle. Vice President Thomas R. Marshall appealed to the Masonic fraternity to "keep America safe." Gov. Lowden told of the great aid rendered him by Masons during the war.

"Bring your son up to become a president of the United States, but don't train him for the vice presidency. Give the lad a fair chance," Mr. Marshall said.

New York, Sept. 22.—(Special.)—The market in stocks today contained a well defined element of cleavage between the industrial and railroad issues. The former, especially automobile, rubber, steel, and petroleum shares, were under the influence of a modest recovery toward the close, but were unable to overcome earlier declines.

Declines ran from one to more than two points in prominent stocks. Bethlehem Steel shares receded more sharply than companies in the group, being moved heavily upon news that the company plans to sell $20,000,000 bonds to finance the building of ore carrying steamships.

Declines in the industrial share market also was shaped by further depressing reductions from the Ford Motor Company's cut of prices. This had chief effect on the hot iron company shares, but a collateral reaction was seen in the reaction of steel stock.

BUBBY'S BURIAL ONES CLEARING $500,000 PLANT

BY AL CHASE.

Bubby Creek's burial has brought a $500,000 industrial plant to the Clearing Industrial district. The Hamier Boiler and Tank company, who have been located on the south bank of the world's most highly perfumed stretch of water—odoriferous old Bubby—at Hallett street, have bought five and one-half acres on West Sixty-sixth street, just west of South Sixtieth avenue.

The first unit of the big plant designed by Foits & Brand will consist of a one-story factory with about 40,000 square feet of floor space. There will also be a machine shop, a flange shop, a riveting tower, and administration buildings. The firm was established more than fifty years ago by John Hamier, grandfather of the present head, and was first known as the John & Hamier company. It recently has been reorganized and re-capitalized. Its present plant will make way for the thirty-third street "lake to sea" project. Local parties in the Clearing Industrial district.

Dairy Companies in Deal.
The Bowman Dairy company has purchased from the Borden's Farm Products company the property at the southeast corner of Lincoln street and Cullum avenue, extended, 102,152, also 137,100 in the rear, improved with a delivery station, for an indicated $47,500. The three-story building at the southwest corner of Bryn Mawr avenue and Broadway, containing two stores and four apartments, lot 42,135, has been sold by John Borden to David K. Tene for an indicated $10,000.

North Clark Street Lease.
The Rialto Restaurant company has leased to Dr. Henry S. Whitney and the John Rogers Clear company the second, third, and fourth floors at 173-7 North Clark street for nine years from Oct. 1, 1921, at a reported term rental of $40,000. About $10,000 in alterations are to be made by the lessees. J. G. Kirk & Co. represented all parties in the Clearing Industrial district.
